

अखिलाण्डेश्वरी

पल्लवी

अखिलाण्डेश्वरी रक्ष मां
आगमसंप्रदायनिपुणे श्री ।

अनुपल्लवी

निखिललोकनित्यात्मिके विमले
निर्मले श्यामले सकलकले ।

चरण

लम्बोदरगुरुगुहपूजिते
लम्बालकोद्भाविते हसिते
वाग्देवताराधिते वरदे
वरशैलराजनुते शारदे
जम्भारिसम्भाविते जनार्दन-
नुते जुजावन्तिरागनुते
झल्लीमहलझर्झरवाद्य-
नादमुदिते ज्ञानप्रदे ॥ १

Akhilāṇḍeśvarī

Pallavī:

O Mother, Who rules over the entire egg-like universe, and Who is deft in giving the knowledge of sacred works! Protect me.

Anupallavī:

O Mother, Who rules over the entire egg-like universe, Who is the incessant self of the entire universe, Who is spotless, Who is pure, Who has a grey complexion, and Who is the abode of all artistry! Protect me.

Carāṇa:

O Mother, Who rules over the entire egg-like universe, Who is adored by Lambodara and Guruguha, Who is well-exhibited by long tresses, Who is smiling, Who is prayed upon by the voice-controllers, Who gives boons, Who is bowed upon by the best King of mountains, Who is Sarada, Who shines forth as the slayer of Jambha, Who is bowed upon by Janardana, Who is adorned by this hymn in the Raga Jujavanti, Who is pleased by the resonant sound of cymbals and drums, and Who bestows knowledge! Protect me.[1]

Poet: Muttusvāmī Dikṣitāra

Source:

Translator: Animesh Kumar

© Stutimandal 2006, Aug 05.