Sukhadātā Śaṅkara

Śaṅkara is the bliss-giver for everyone.[1] O Śaṅkara, Who has direction as His clothes, Who is Brahmakeśa, and Who absolved Tripurāsura! You are the absolver of the three-worlds.[2] Be Victorious, O Śiva, Who is the lord of the world, Who is for world-benefit, Who holds poison in His throat, Who is Om̐-kara form for the poet "Bhāvaraṅga," Who is served by demi-gods and demons, Who is Hara, and Who always absolves Dvaita-duality.[3]
